

Mission Possible

Life In Lubbock TX

Leaving Miami was very sad. I'm going to miss everyone down there. However seeing how God has blessed the work that we did there was a huge blessing. God has blessed the people down there in more ways than I ever thought possible. Seeing God work in the lives and hearts of people is the best part of mission work.

However, I am now back in Lubbock. I have started school and AIM is in full swing. Although school is not my favorite way to spend the day, it has been good being in the Word all day every day. Over this last month I have been looking for a place to stay that would fit my budget. It took a while, but we finally found a place to move into that was affordable.

ADVENTURES IN MISSIONS

Sunset International Bible Institute

In the Sunset School of Preaching, after you finish your first year you pick a ministry to focus on in your second year. This is called a track class. You can graduate with a focus in preaching, youth and family, or missions. I'm in the missions track along with all the ex-aimers.

The other classes that I'm taking this term is a teaching class where we are learning to teach in a class setting, the books of James, 1 Peter and 2 Peter, and last but not least we are learning about the Jewish sacrificial system (this class has proven to be the most interesting). When you learn all the symbolisms of the sacrifices that they did and what they meant to them, it brings a new perspective on the new covenant that Jesus brought.

AIM

AIM is going strong. This year has started off really exciting because Mason from my home town in SC is in this class, as well as one of the girls who was in the J4L youth group in Miami. Her name is July, she is the third person from the Homestead church of Christ to go to AIM.

This class is very enthusiastic and excited for the adventure that they have started.

My area church this year is Tulia, Tx. I'm working with Andrew and Megin Shiply. I was able to work with them some over the summer. We had our first service on the 27th of August.

God at work

I've been involved with the campus ministry that takes place at Texas Tech. While I was there a couple of weeks ago I met a guy named Hurry. He is a Hindu. He and I started talking about Hinduism and Christianity. That conversation led into another and now we are studying the two beliefs every week. It has been a really big learning curve for me. I've never dealt with Hinduism before. Things like God coming down as man are not big things to them. They believe that many gods have come down as man. So I've been learning how to present the truth to him.

I also got into a conversation with another Hindu who is more familiar with Christianity and we are going to meet up again. Please be praying for the truth of God's Word to shine through the myths and legends of Hinduism and please pray that God gives me wisdom in how I present the gospel to them.

Special thanks

I want to give a special thanks to everyone who supports me. Without you nothing that I have been blessed to do and am doing would be possible.
